How do you commission a portrait?

- I paint primarily from photos to ensure a good likeness, but if possible I like to meet the subject/s first.
- You provide a photograph or I take pictures ($40 charge) if you don't have pictures or their quality is inadequate.
- You choose the size of picture you want (see price list below) and pay 1/3 of the price up front.
- While I have never had a dissatisfied client I cannot guarantee you will like the finished artwork. If you did not like the completed painting I would keep the picture and the deposit.
- Copyright laws specify that although you own the painting you may not reproduce it any way without my permission.
